Today, when you see a cross or the name "Jesus" certain images and ideas come to mind. Some of those images are inaccurate, layered over by centuries of tradition, nostalgia, and cultural baggage. We all have a tendency to recreate Jesus in our own image and before you know it we have Western Jesus, hippie Jesus, liberation Jesus, feminist Jesus, Capitalist or socialist Jesus. Jesus becomes a brand and the cross its logo. This isn't new. Two thousand years ago, people attempted to co-opt his message for their personal and political goals, and, faced with two Messiahs, they chose the one that fit their personal and political agendas. Join us this Sunday as we explore Matthew 27:15-26. We will also be celebrating the Lord's Table together.

‘Truly I tell you,
Whatever you did
for one of the least of These brothers and Sisters of mine,
You did for me.’

– Matt 25: 40
